Membership of Nigg Awareness Group gives you access to all the work we have done, the legal and other professional advice we are receiving and the knowledge we have built up. We also gain valuable information from other objector groups fighting similar battles.

Many developers are big companies, with the money to retain expensive advisers in order to push their projects through. And there's strong political pressure for more renewable energy projects. So objectors need to be thorough and professional if they are to have any hope of persuading a council to refuse a wind farm application. It's a David and Goliath situation - but remember who won that fight! Again - NAG can help you.

Please register my/our membership of the Nigg Awareness Group
